International Women's Day Trivia Night – Friday 10th March

Be Bold for Change is this year's theme for International Women's Day. We are putting together the final touches for a wonderful ladies' night to celebrate inspiring women in our community and to come together as women to think about ways we can lead by example in our community. Prizes include $600 first prize for trivia, boldest dressed team and a lucky door prize. We are very thankful to be supported by YWCA Queensland, Queensland Government and Isaac Regional Council who provided funds for this event. Last chance for teams to register for the evening, please call the Community Centre on 4958 2461 for tickets.

Save the Date: Dysart's Home - Grown Festival 10th & 11th June.

Dysart Community Support Group has received funding through the Queensland Government to host celebrations throughout Queensland week in June. We are honored to celebrate our local talented crafts people, producers and artist through displays, workshops and market stalls. Dysart's home grown festival will also include the Dysart Through My Eyes photography exhibition, local entertainment and a community BBQ. If you know anyone who has a bush craft or performance they could share at this event, please have them contact me on 07 4958 2461. We would love to keep it local as much as possible. Please save the date and more details will be released in upcoming Dysart Diary's.

International Women's Day celebrates the social, economic, cultural and political achievement of women.

Last year, organisations and individuals around the world supported the #PledgeForParity campaign and committed to help women and girls achieve their ambitions; challenge conscious and unconscious bias; call for gender-balanced leadership; value women and men's contributions equally; and create inclusive flexible cultures. From awareness raising to concrete action, organisations rallied their people to pledge support to help forge gender parity on International Women's Day (IWD) and beyond.

But the World Economic Forum predicts the gender gap won't close entirely until 2186. This is too long to wait. Around the world, IWD can be an important catalyst and vehicle for driving greater change for women and moving closer to gender parity.

Will you #BeBoldForChange on International Women's Day 2017 and beyond by taking groundbreaking action that truly drives the greatest change for women.

Each one of us with women, men and non-binary people joining forces - can be a leader within our own spheres of influence by taking bold pragmatic action to accelerate gender parity. Through purposeful collaboration, we can help women advance and unleash the limitless potential offered to economies and world over.

Celebrating Women's Achievements

Dysart State High School Graduate receives CQUniversity BMA Community Scholarship

International Women's Day 2017 #BeBoldForChange

As we approach International Women's Day, I consider the progress that has been made for equality but also the barriers that still exist in many women's circumstances. It is clear to see how fortunate I am to live here in Dysart, a small community with a large spirit which has given me great insight into the significant impact a collaborative community approach can have.

I'm extremely thankful for the opportunities I have had the privilege to participate in throughout the past few years. In considering the theme for this year's International Women's Day, #BeBoldForChange, I reflect on what that really means. I have realised that even if we are lucky enough to have access to exciting experiences, sometimes it takes courage to really take advantage of them. The last few years have included many times where I had to step out of my comfort zone, challenge myself and even face my fears. As a result I have been presented with possibilities I would never have realised otherwise, that have shaped who I am and provided opportunities for my future. These things have supported me through my transition from high school to university, preparing me to apply for BMA Community Scholarship through Central Queensland University. As a successful recipient of this Scholarship, I now have the opportunity to study at Central Queensland University to complete a Psychological Science degree with a goal of contributing my part to building vibrant communities in regional Qld in the future. I also hope to be a mentor and inspiration to other young women to confidently take on the challenges required to achieve their own career goals.

DCSG Employee Tyla Henry with Volunteer Tara Toshack

#BeBoldForChange is not just an individual concept, it can be applied to groups, organisations and communities as a collective, creating an environment that empowers others to 'be bold'. So this International Women's Day I encourage us all to share information on and celebrate the opportunities community stakeholders have presented to us in recognition of the important role community projects, events and activities hold in enriching our life while also inspiring other women to participate and 'be bold'. I would like to thank BMA and Central Qld University for this valuable opportunity in making my goal to study Psychology possible. I would also like to thank the many teachers at Dysart State High School who have supported and encouraged me over the years, BMA and Queensland Mineral & Energy Academy and the Dysart Community Support Group Inc. for the opportunities to become involved in some truly rewarding experiences.

With Queensland Women's Week Celebrations in full swing, I was pleased to see the return of the Women's Health clinics to Dysart Hospital last month. True Relationships and Reproductive Health are running clinics for women of all ages. They provide access to female doctors and nurses who specialise in reproductive and sexual health. If you missed the clinics during February they will be returning in May and June. Contact the Dysart Hospital for more details and to book. I'd also like to thank everyone who nominated someone for our inaugural Inspiring Women in Isaac Awards. I look forward to seeing the winners announced during the Queensland Women's Week events this month. For a full list of events please visit Council's website.

Ensuring a smooth transition from school to site for BMA apprentices

Young women will make up half the mining apprentices taking part in a unique work readiness program that kicked off in February in central Queensland.

Thirty-one apprentices start the four-week BHP Billiton Mitsubishi Alliance (BMA) Work Readiness Program, which is run by the Queensland Minerals and Energy Academy (QMEA), learning trade skills in an environment that replicates practices on mine sites.

Moranbah State High School's Coalfields Training Excellence Centre will host the Program before the apprentices – 16 who are female – then embark on their fulltime roles at six (BMA) sites across Central Queensland.

QMEA Director Katrina-Lee Jones said the initiative, in its second year, broke new ground in the education and training sector, ensuring a safe, seamless transition from school to site.

“The BMA Work Readiness Program was a logical extension to our schools program with a number of BMA apprentices participating in QMEA experiences over the past few years,” Ms Jones said. “It was also great to see that half of the apprentices are women, who gained their places based on merit.”

“This regional focus is typified by the fact that 31 of the 35 QMEA schools come from outside Brisbane, including Moranbah State High School where this training course is being held.

“This initiative to quickly integrate apprentices to add value for their employers almost from day one, is of enormous benefit.”

Sean Milfull, General Manager at BMA Peak Downs Mine said the health, safety and wellbeing of its people was central to the organisation and the Program.

“BMA is excited to be investing in the future, with the induction of 31 trade apprentices in 2017. In partnership with the QMEA we look forward to collectively providing a supportive learning and mentoring environment for our new apprentices, with the Work Readiness Program offering the perfect starting point.”

News from the Dysart Dolphins!

On the 28th of January the Dysart dolphins hosted its annual “Jill Matthew Swimming carnival”. Over 175 swimmers attended from Springsure to Rockhampton and to Mackay. It was a great success due to the fabulous parents of the club who all helped out and had such a positive attitude towards supporting their children.

The club started the day with the “Margie Geeson” March Past which was won by the Moranbah Highlanders. The March Past has become an important and popular event to honour of Margie Geeson who dedicated over 20 years of service to the Dysart Swimming Club. Sadly Margie passed away from Cancer.

The Moranbah Highlanders also took home the “Marshall Family” overall points winners and The Caribeae Swim Club went home with the “Jill Matthews” aggregate trophy.

The day produced many a Personal Best swims and records were also broken. What was more important though was the great sportsmanship shown by all of the swimmers.

The club would not have had such a successful day if it wasn't for the great sponsors. The following companies provided fabulous food for the volunteer timekeepers and judges: Civeo, Stayover, Thiess – Cater Care and Sodexo.

Sharps Heavy Engineering volunteered their time to timekeep and to cook the BBQ Breakfast. We really would have been lost without you guys and girls.

News from the Dysart Dolphins!

Cliptomania – Jade Hawkens supplied the gifts for the Judges who travelled from Rockhampton and Emerald. Thanks also to the Isaac Regional Council, the Lions Club, Dysart Community Support Group, the Dysart Primary School and the Jolly Collier.

Finally we would like to acknowledge the support of the Dysart Community. Thank you for coming down to cheer your local swimmers on.....we hope you enjoyed the day as much as we did!!

Andy Kerr from Sharps Engineering awarding the girl medallists for the 14 year girls breastroke event.

What to do if you are being bullied

You have a right to feel safe and be safe. If you are being bullied here are some ideas about what you can do.

Talk to someone about it. Find a trusted friend, teacher or carer who will listen to how you feel, be supportive, and perhaps even help you work out what to do.

- Talk to your friends - they can help you tell a teacher or your parents or just to feel better.
- Talk to your parents - tell them all about what's been happening.
- Talk to your teacher or another staff member - tell them all about what's been happening. If you don't want to do this in public, make an excuse to see the teacher about something else, for example your homework.
- If you can't talk to someone face-to-face go online at Kids Helpline <http://www.kidshelp.com.au> or call a Kids Helpline counsellor on 1800 55 1800.

Try a few of the strategies that have worked for others. Only try these strategies if you are not in any immediate danger of being physically hurt and you feel confident you can do them

- Ignore the bullying - turn your back and walk away.
- Act unimpressed or pretend you don't care what they say or do to you. You could say 'okay, whatever' and walk away.
- Use strong, assertive statements, starting with the word 'I'; tell the other person 'I want you to stop that' in a strong confident voice. Practice this with your friends.
- Use 'fogging' which means making a joking or funny comment that makes the other person think you don't care about what they say.
- Ask your friends to speak up for you. And remember to do the same for them!

Try to stay positive. Focus on all the things that you do well, the people who like you and care about you. Write down your thoughts and feelings about the bullying to help you think clearly about what you can do.

Hang around with your friends and be with people who help you feel good about yourself. Good friends respect, encourage and support you. They care for your wellbeing and are fun to be around. You'll make new friends by respecting, encouraging and supporting others.

Try to sort out the problem behind the bullying. If you feel safe to do so, talk with the other people involved and ask them how you might be able to sort out the problem together.
